Convention.

The Resolutions Discussed and Adopted-A Vote on a Temperance Question-The Work of the Association During the Past Year-The Evening Session - Addresses by Several Delegates.

The Suffrage Convention. The National Wennan's Suffrage Convention reassembled in Lincoln Hall yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the attendance, despite the disagreeable weather, being fully as large as that of the previous day. The principal business transacted was the discussion and adoption of the resolutions published in yesterday's NATIONAL REPUBLICAN. Among those who participated in the debate were Mrs. Archibald, of Colorado; Mrs. Sara A. Spencer, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Lucinda B. Chandler, of Philadelphin; Judge Walte, of Chicago, Mrs. Start, of Delaware, and Mrs. Sicenm. of New York. A recess was then taken until 2 p. m.

At this meeting the presiding officer, Mrs. Stanton, delivered a short address on the evils of intemperance, at the close of which size asked all present to vote aye or nay on the question of whether or not they were in favor processing of the Chicago, Mrs. Mrs. Crossman were nominated for President of the Washington of the world that he had in hand $428, which he would turn over to Mr. Riggs and turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs, which he would star over the wind turn over to Mr. Riggs. of intemperance, at the close of which sho asked all present to vote aye or my on the question of whether or not they were in favor of the traffic in liquor. Spencer, secretary of the association, gave an account of the work performed during the past year, stating that over 55,000 documents ind been circulated throughout the country, and the association was only $125 in debt. Thus far twenty-four States had petitioned Congress for woman suffrages, and the asso-ciation was thoroughly organized, having good working officers in every section of the land. Mrs. Matilda Gage then told the story of the claim of Miss Anna Ella Carroll, of Maryland, the latter being absent on account of sickness, for services rendered in drawing up plans by which Sherman's march to the sea was made a Miss Phoebe Cozzens, of St. Louis, was the last speaker, and devoted her address to the "Moral Aspect of the Woman Question." She related a number of incidents of the work performed by woman during the perilons times of the Revolution, and claimed that they had always been foremost in noble deeds. At the conclusion of her remarks a recess was taken until 7:30 p. m.

The closing session of the convention began punetually at half-past 7 last evening, a crowd not quite so large as during the day session being in attendance. Letters regretting their inability to attend the convention were read from Mrs. J. H. Nichols, of California, and Mrs. Dr. Clement Delozier, of New York city.

Mrs. Lillie Blake then addressed the meeting on the policy of the two parties toward. ans. Little blake then addressed the meeting on the policy of the two parties toward the woman's movement, stating that they had both failed to do anything but promise. It was to be loped that in the future women would not be compelled to stand by and see the most degraded apscimens of the opposite are expected the elective franchise while they sex exercise the elective franchise while they were dealed a voice even in the administra-

Mrs. Emma McRae, principal of the High school at Muncie, Ind., was then introduced, and gave a detailed account of the progress of woman suffrage in her State. She stated that in her case sie was glad to say the salary she for their regular weekly practice, received was more than ever paid a man in Indiana occupying a similar position, and all tenchers, whether male or female, were placed en an equal footing.
The convention adjourned after listening to an address by Miss Phorbe Cozzens on the "In-ward Vices which now Beset Us as a Nation." She was particularly severe on those who used tobacco in any form, and whisky, and did not fail to hold up the Members of the House of mon. one Representatives as a terrible example of the xcomes of the day.

The Suffrage Meeting To-night. The salrage sheeting To-night.

Those who would enjoy a rare intellectual treat should not fail to be present at the great suffrage meeting at Odd-Fellows' Hall to-night. The chair will be occupied by ex-Mayor Berret, and speeches will be made by Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, Thomas J. Durant, J. P. Kingle and others. It is understood that Mr. Durant will make a constitutional appropriate blowing—us on man in the United that Mr. Durant with make a constitutional argument showing—as no man in the United States is more competent than him to do—the unconstitutionality of our present form of gov/ernment. Colonel Ingersoll, who is always eloquent, is specially at home on the suffrege question, and, no doubt, will make one of his best efforts. Mr. Klingle will draw a competence the events of our District parison between the expense of our District government and that of New York city under AMUSEMENTS. National Theatre-Lotta. Another delighted audience witnessed Lot-ta's matchless performance of "Zip," last evening, and manifested its intense enjoyment evening, and manifested its intense enjoyment by almost uninterrupted applause. This even-ing she has her benefit, and appears in "The Little Detective," wherein her protean abil-ities are signalized by her assuming six differ-ent characters. The charming little actress ought to be remembered by the many thousands to whom her acting has afforded genuine pleasure, and there should not be a warmt seat in the house.

Ford's Opera-House—"Hlack Crook."

The splenders of the "Black Crook " have lost none of their charms, if the enormous audience of last evening can be taken as an indication. The magnificent ballet and interesting specialties were generally admired and praised, and but one regret is heard on all sides, and that is that there will be but three more representations of the grand spectacle. Theatre Comique.

Ford's Opera-House-"Black Crook,"

Crowded houses are the order of the day, or rather of the night, at the Comique. The performance is the best ever witnessed in the variety line. Everybody should go.

Bowers-Thompson Combination.

Howers-Thompson Combination.
The two great actresses Mrs. D. P. Bowers and Charlotte Thompson, supported by an excellent company, begin a week's engagement at Ford's Opera-House, on Monday evening, with "Lady Jane Grey." Mrs. Bowers assuming the part of Mary Tudor, and Miss Thompson that of Lady Jane Grey. The company comes to us flushed with recent triumphs and indorsed by the press with unusual unanimity. Scats can now be secured.

Recent Discoveries.

The discoveries and inventions of the past few years have been among the most remark-able in the history of the world, and first among those for the removal of disease are Warner's Safe Kidney and Lilver Curo, Safe Diabetes Cure, Safe Bitters, Safe Tonic, Safe I'lls and Safe Nervine.
